

Rod Little – Director, National Board

Rod Little is from the Amangu and Wajuk peoples of Geraldton and Perth areas of WA but is a long time resident of Canberra.

He has a long employment history in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander affairs holding senior leadership positions across several social policy areas in the Australian Public Service for 15 years. He recently worked for Principals Australia Inc, on its Dare to Lead project which works to improve Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander student education outcomes through leadership.

He is currently Chairperson of the ACT Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Elected Body, Vice President of the ACT Council of Social Services and a board member of the Winnunga Aboriginal Medical Services. He is also a member of the ACT Local Hospital Network and the ACT Circle Sentencing panel